REDWOOD CITY, Calif. — February 20, 2025 — Biotricity Inc. (OTCQB: BTCY) (“Biotricity” or the “Company”), a top Technology-as-a-Service (TaaS) company that is redefining the healthcare industry with state-of-the-art remote monitoring and diagnostic solutions, today announced its financial results for the third quarter of fiscal 2025 year and (unaudited) ended December 31, 2024.

Dr. Waqaas Al-Siddiq, Biotricity Founder & CEO, said, “In the third quarter of fiscal 2025, we continued our mission to innovate and develop transformative healthcare technologies, while demonstrating our strong commitment to automation, operating efficiency and financial discipline. Our primary focus remains on driving revenue and margins and as such, we were pleased to see these metrics trend upwards. This quarter we continued to leverage our data intelligently, pushing the boundaries of what’s possible in healthcare outcomes through cutting-edge research and development. This dedication has allowed us to redefine medical diagnostics and patient care by introducing innovative AI-driven solutions.

Our Biocore suite of products, in concert with our robust platform, continues to improve in design in response to feedback provided by cardiologists and electrophysiologists who relentlessly seek to provide superior patient care. We have now monitored billions of heartbeats for atrial fibrillation (AFib), a leading cause of strokes. Over the past two years, these efforts have made a significant impact, benefiting over hundreds of thousands of patients diagnosed with AFib. Our technology offers them the prospect of earlier medical intervention, producing substantial healthcare savings for both patients and the healthcare system.

Building on this success, we've expanded our AI technology development in remote cardiac care, harnessing proprietary AI technology to provide a suite of predictive monitoring tools that enhance new disease profiling, improve patient management, and revolutionize disease prevention within the healthcare industry. The results for our fiscal third quarter demonstrate year-over-year revenue growth and improvements in all key operating metrics- specifically in recurring technology fees, device sales, and gross margins. Throughout this, we've maintained a strong focus on cost control, reducing expenses, and making consistent progress towards our goal of achieving positive cash flow and profitability."

Q3-FY25 Financial Highlights

- Revenue increased by 21.7% YOY to $3.6 million in Q3 FY25
- Gross profit percentage was 76.4% for the three months ended December 31, 2024, as compared to 72.9% in the corresponding prior year quarter. This increase in gross margin was primarily attributed to improved margins on technology fees and gained efficiencies in using AI in workflow optimizations. Going forward the Company anticipates continued strong performance in overall blended gross margins.
- Net loss decreased 56.7% YOY to $1.32 million, or $0.054 per share, from a net loss $3.05 million, or $0.339 per share, in Q3-FY24

Operating Highlights for Q3-FY25

- Q3-FY25 recurring (TaaS) Technology Fees rose 21.8% YOY to $3.39 million; 67% of this revenue was pure SaaS revenue, which grew by 22% from the prior year period, which is a growing percentage of the Company's business
- Continued efficiency gains with revenue growth of 21.7% YoY in Q3-FY25, outpacing a 6.2% increase in Cost of Revenue, resulting in a gross margin of 76.4% for the quarter. The Company remains focused on achieving sustained positive cash flow by accelerating revenue growth while maintaining cost discipline. Cash flow improvements are expected to continue into the next quarter
- Company maintained its strong customer retention track record, supported by quality of customer and cardiologist-friendly support services that emphasize accuracy of diagnostics and ease-of-use.
- Continued to expand its customer base with an increased focus on hospital networks; currently being used by hundreds of centers across 35 states with thousands of cardiologists
